RIVER PLATE ITEMS.

—There were four suicides in Buenos Aires on the 20th, two of which were business men.

—The Argentine minister of agriculture has ordered the distribution of 3000 tons of seed wheat among agriculturists who lost their last crop.

—The vigilance exercised by the Argentine authorities on the Uruguay river, seem to have defeated the plans of the Uruguayan revolutionists, who were seeking to cross over near Salto.

—The Argentine vice-president, Dr. Quiroga Costa, is leaving for Chile on a visit on Thursday next. He was formerly minister at Santiago, and will receive a cordial reception there.

—The Southern Cross of 8th Inst. is informed that the Santa Fé millers and flour exporters are considering the expediency of fixing a date when all flour sent to Brazil shall be packed in barrels. This might have been expected.

—Two doctors are suing a patient for no less than $24,000 as fee for medical attendance. It is coming to such a state of affairs that a man cannot live because the doctors want his fortune and he dare not lest the lawyers get it. —Buenos Aires Herald.

—A Buenos Aires telegram of 22nd announces further failures in that city. Among the causes enumerated are the failure of Fortin Paets, the price of flour and the unification of the Argentine debt. But government and reckless trading are not mentioned.

—Government has accepted the offer of a powerful syndicate in Buenos Aires to carry out Italian colonisation on a large scale in the far South. For the present, government allows them 30,000 hectares in Chubut, and when they have complied with all the conditions of the contract they will be granted other lands under similar conditions. The empresa is liable to a fine of $50,000 if it does not comply with all the terms of the contract.

—The provincial government [Buenos Aires] has prepared a scheme which will bring in to its coffers the annual sum of $8,000,000 by taxing all the live stock in the province, charging 30 cents for every head of cattle; 30 cents on horses, 5 cents on sheep, 10 cents on goats; 30 cents on mules and 50 cents on pigs. The municipalities of each partido is to receive 20 % of the receipts, which will go towards the making and repairing of roads and bridges. —Southern Cross.

—In a letter to The Times of December 30, Sir Martin Conway urges the resumption of diplomatic relations with Bolivia, which he describes as probably the richest undeveloped area that the world contains. In regard to the abnormal relations now existing, he says:—

—It is true that British interests have been protected, and ably protected, by the present United States minister, the Hon. George H. Bridgman. In the protection of these interests, and in looking after the possessions of Englishmen who have died in remote places or who have got themselves into trouble with local authorities he has spent his own money freely. One case I knew of personally. An Englishman died in the forest region. Dr. Bridgman sent his own secretary a ten days' ride over most difficult and inhospitable country to collect his property and investigate the circumstances of his death. For this and the like services Dr. Bridgman receives no penny of salary and none too warm thanks. I know other cases in which he has been similarly generous. His hospitality to English visitors is likewise notorious. If Dr. Bridgman were going to remain for ever as minister in La Paz we could not do better than leave our affairs in his hands, and as we get his services for nothing, the foreign office would not be likely to object. But any day a new United States minister may be appointed, and under any circumstances the position is not a dignified one for Great Britain. It is to be hoped that a British minister may soon be accredited to Bolivia, or, at least, that the British minister to Peru and Ecuador may have Bolivia added to his area and be empowered to appoint consuls. It is likewise to be hoped that the United States minister, who has done so much for Englishmen at La Paz, may receive a fitting recognition of his services.

—"America para los Americanos" — del Norte. This is a new aphorism here in Buenos Aires. It is, however, we are sorry to note, gaining favour amongst many intelligent Argentines. In a recent discussion on our jerked-beef trade with Cuba it has come largely into play, and also in connection with our late Brazilian flour-trade. We are saddling the wrong horse when we gird at the "absorptive" power of the Argentine. In fact, of trying to discover causes, we are hunting for scapegoats. This will never do. We stand to gain or lose many millions of gold dollars yearly by our flour and jerked-beef trade, and howling at the "yanquis" will not help us. Let us look facts squarely in the face. We are wrong, and we know we are wrong, in attributing the loss of trade to the falsehoods of American diplomats. We have lost our flour trade with Brazil by our own act. We sold one class of article and delivered an inferior class. In regard to the jerked-beef trade with Cuba, we cannot complain if people wish to inspect our exports. We export airy wretched stuff that we please, and then we wonder why people will not take cat for hares. If we were more careful about our commercial morality and etiquette, we would occupy a different position as exporters to the somewhat unenviable one which is now ours. We call the North Americans names because their diplomatic representative in these republics of the South occupy themselves with such prosaic matters as trade and markets. Why do not Argentine diplomatic representatives do the same? Of what earthly use is Dr. Edward Wilde as a diplomatic representative?—and yet he is the man we have in Washington. Dr. Wilde at the present moment is on his way to Cuba not to look after the interests of our jerked-beef trade in that island, but to attend a medical congress at Havana. What does the doctor care for jerked-beef?—he the most polished writer amongst our medical faculty and the most distinguished physician amongst our writers? He does not take himself or anybody or anything seriously. Jerked-beef quotha? And did you think he went to Washington to bother himself about such matters? Did you imagine that he cares a snap of his fingers for trade? Give him his salary, and pictures, and readers for what he writes; but do not expect him to bother about your wretched beef. Why the country ought to be proud of being able to send such an accomplished man abroad without asking him to stoop to figures, or annoy himself with exports! We ought to be only too proud to have a man at Washington who is a doctor of medicine, and who can go down to Havana with the crowd and discuss microbes against any of them—while the jerked-beef market goes to the wall! —Southern Cross, Buenos Aires.

COFFEE NOTES

—The Correio, of S. Carlos do Piedade, S. Paulo, is seeking to stem the tide of the next crop by declaring that in that municipality it is estimated at half a crop. It won't do; there is too much testimony on the other side. —It is stated that in the district of Jacutinga, Minas Geraes, the coffee crop this year will be extraordinarily large. This is the general situation throughout the coffee region, the rains having contributed immensely to the growth of the berry.

—Esteves, Irmãos & Co., coffee merchants, have offered to make an assignment to their creditors, who will meet on the 5th prox. for the purpose of taking action on the proposal. The business difficulties of this important firm are attributed to general financial and commercial depression and especially to the critical condition of the coffee trade.

RAILROAD NOTES

—The government of Chili, having invited tenders for 400 goods waggons, has accepted 300 from Beeche & Co., and 100 from W. R. Grace & Co., all of American manufacture. —Mail advices from London up to the 2nd inst. state that no announcement had been made in regard to the purchase of the Recife and San Francisco railway, though it is believed that the term had been agreed upon.

—The estimated traffic receipts of the L20-poldina railway for the week ending 2nd February were as follows, compared with the corresponding week of last year:

Receipts in currency.....	269,285
idem last year.....	327,303
Decrease for week.....	$8,018
Equivalent in gold (this year).....	£14,299
idem last year (7 5/8).....	4,10,399
increase in sterling for week.....	£ 891
Total receipts since January 1.....	£15,217
idem last year.....	£19,400
Decrease since January 1.....	£ 4,183

—The foreign debenture-holders of the União Sorocabana-Itana company will be glad to hear that a change has just occurred in the administration of that railway which promises better for the future. Last week the old president of the company was ousted and Sr. Francisco Casemiro Alberto da Costa was elected director-president in his place. The latter is an exceptionally good administrator, having successfully managed the Juiz de Fora e Piauí line and the Companhia Edificadora in difficult times, and it may be assumed that he will lose no time in putting the affairs of the Sorocabana-Itana lines in better order.

SHIPPING NOTES

—The Lamport & Holt steamer "Wordsworth" left Rio on the 23rd inst. for New York, with the following passengers: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Wilkens, Messrs. August Nebelthann, M. Baldwin, John Taylor, and 52 third-class.

—The American cruiser "Atlanta" arrived at Rio Grande do Sul on the 23rd inst. with Minister Bryan on board. The minister was then transferred to the steamer "Mercedes" and proceeded to Porto Alegre. The "Atlanta" has returned to Maldonado.

—The American steamer City of Rio de Janeiro, which was built for and run for some years on the line between New York and this port, was wrecked at the entrance to the harbor of San Francisco on the 21st inst. There were 131 lives lost, principally Asiatics, and 79 lives were saved. The captain of the ship is included among those lost.

—The passengers which landed at Rio on the 25th inst. by the Lamport & Holt liner "Havellius" from New York, Pernambuco and Bahia, were the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Raymond and child, Rev. and Mrs. K. Roth and 3 children, Dr. Angel Bellinzaghi, Messrs. S. B. Camacho, E. Belts, J. Signor, T. A. McMenon, John McNeil, P. B. Withney, A. M. Johnson, T. Roth, T. H. Borne, T. T. Campello, L. H. Hayes, B. J. Cooper, James Ryan, G. W. Easchka and 4 third-class.

ABSOLUTELY FLAWLESS

A few words on the superiority of,

TROPICAL
DUNLOP TYRES

"I send you by parcels post a Dunlop Tyre which has had a record experience, having been in daily use on the back wheel of my bicycle since 1895, and done fully 15,000 "tropical" miles. The front tyre, like Charley's Aunt, is still running and absolutely flawless, although fitted at the same time as the one now sent to you. I think this fact speaks volumes for the durability of your tyres."

MR. F. M. STAPLES,

Colombo, Ceylon.

In order to prevent fraud purchasers of these famous tyres should make a point of observing that the Company's trade mark is embossed on the outer cover and inner tube.

THE YELLOW FEVER MOSQUITO.

The surgeon general of the army, possibly actuated by the brilliant investigation of Italian experts on the Campagna with the malarial parasite, appointed a board last July, consisting of men well known in the world of scientific medicine, heading the list with Major Walter Reed, surgeon, United States army, who for years conducted experiments in the laboratory of the army medical museum in Washington, following with Drs. Carroll, Agramonte, and Lazear, acting assistant surgeons, United States army, to conduct an extended series of experiments covering various methods for the transmission of this disease.
 It is whispered that this board has discovered the much-disputed germ of yellow fever, and, if so, it is not unlikely that at the next session of the Pan-American medical congress they will announce.

It is possibly too early to affirm that the results of the board's study and investigation are proof positive, but at any rate, another mile post has been passed upon the high road so carefully followed by the medical profession the world over, though not until now has so much attention been paid to the spread of yellow fever, which is ever erratic.

The mosquito selected for the experiments, and the one with which results have been obtained, is the Culex fasciatus. This insect is striped upon the body and legs, and differs from the black mosquito in that it seems to prefer the dark and dislikes the wind, and is a comparatively quiet creature, while the black variety is restless, never remaining long in one place.

It has been demonstrated that after the mosquito bites a yellow fever patient the patient it extracts must remain in its stomach from eight to twelve days to permit the incubation to incubate. At the end of this time, should the insect sting a susceptible non-immune individual, the probability would be of a well marked yellow fever. Instinct, as it takes about ten days for the egg to incubate in the stomach, and bearing in mind the habits of the Culex fasciatus, (striped variety), it is readily understood why persons contract the fever where they sleep, which is characteristic.

Observation of the thousands of non-immune Americans who have resided here (Havana) since Jan. 1, 1899, leads to the conclusion that yellow fever is not contagious in the sense of other diseases, such as smallpox, &c., if it can be classed among the infectious or contagious diseases at all. At Las Animas Hospital, where many patients with the fever have entered and left, either to resume their vocations in life or else sorrowfully borne to their last resting place in the beautiful Cristobal Colon Cemetery, the nurses have nearly all been non-immunes, and yet not a case has arisen within the confines of the grounds. In fact, the hospital is charmed by the nurses to be a health resort, and only to-day the writer heard two of them lament because they must return to the States, there being practically no fever at this time.

It must be borne in mind that, though bitten by an infected mosquito, it is by no means certain a case of fever would follow, for the particular individual bitten might be able to resist the further multiplication of the germ; this is the case in typhoid fever, where many having drink of infected water or milk, only a few may contract the disease. Yet it has been held that if foreigners from northern countries staid long enough in Havana they would surely contract yellow fever.

There is little doubt that the studies now in progress will develop methods for the partial or complete suppression of yellow fever, and this, it is believed, can be done by the growing of fish and tadpoles in swamps, planting eucalyptus around ponds and marshes and along the streams, covering pools with kerosene to prevent the larvae coming to the surface and developing, putting aniline dyes of certain kinds in the water, these dyes not being poisonous to cattle or man, carefully isolating each new case by putting mosquito bars at the windows and doors so that the insect cannot get at the patient, and destroying those already in the room.

—What is the difference between Paul Kruger and an old stove pipe?—One is a silly old Highlander, and the other a hollow old cylinder.

A touching little story about Queen Victoria which has not before appeared in print is given in the British Weekly. While visiting the wounded at Netley, her Majesty was greatly distressed by the appearance of one poor man whose face had been terribly injured by the fragment of a shell. "Is there nothing," said the Queen, "that I can do for you?" The soldier replied, speaking with difficulty owing to his injury, "Nothing, your Majesty, unless you would thank my nurse for her kindness to me." The Queen turned to the nurse, who was standing close by, and said with tears in her eyes: "I do thank you with all my heart for your kindness to this poor wounded son of mine."

The money supply of the world has more than doubled since 1873. It is estimated that the present total stock of money is about $11,600,000,000, of which little over 25 per cent is in unsecured paper. Director Roberts, of the United States Mint, finds that while the total money supply of the world has increased about $7,000,000,000, the increase in gold money since 1873 has been about $3,600,000, 000, in silver about $2,750,000,000, and in uncovered paper only about $650,000,000. A large proportion of the increase in gold has taken place within the short space of seven years; while the quantity of silver money, which was at its maximum of about $4,350, 000,000 at the beginning of 1896, has since been somewhat reduced by the sale of silver by Germany and its retirement in other countries.—Exchange.

RIO DE JANEIRO, FEBRUARY 26th 1901.

AMONG the measures which we have urged upon the government on various occasions is that of the publication of monthly treasury statements—a measure which will not only keep the public informed in regard to the actual financial condition of the country, but will serve as a salutary check upon officials who are accustomed to take advantage of the secrecy with which their affairs are managed. At the present moment, it seems to us, the need of such a check upon the treasury is greater than ever, and it is essential that congress should delay no longer in making obligatory the publication of such balances. Under other administrations there have been clandestine issues of paper money, unauthorized transfers of appropriations, illegal appropriation of deposits, re-issue of deposited bonds, and many other acts which perhaps would not have occurred had it been obligatory to publish sworn statements every month. In 1897 a new loan was issued, but there were reasons for believing that it was not a success. There has been no statement published in regard to the transaction, and it has never been known how much of the sixty thousand contos asked for was really issued. As the government has been exchanging bonds of this issue during the past year for converted bonds of other issues, the inference is that the treasury had either a large part of the authorized loan on hand, or that it is issuing in excess of the amount authorized. It is not advisable that suspicions of this character should exist, consequently they should be rendered impossible by the publication of monthly treasury statements. Then there is the extraordinary recourse of treasury bills, the government having a right to issue them at pleasure up to a certain amount. But as no statement is ever published, who knows whether the limit has been observed, or not? In September last the government published an official explanation of its relations to the Banco da Republica, in which it was confessed that an issue of 10,000,000$ in treasury bills had been loaned to that bank in February. No official announcement was made at the time in regard to this issue and loan, it did not appear in the bank's balance sheets, and the public did not know that the bank was in difficulties. The transaction was essentially irregular. In the first balance-sheet of the reorganized Banco da Republica, 31st October, its holding of treasury bills is given as 6,500,000$, and on 31st December this asset was reduced to 1,000,000$. In a settlement of January 4th, however, we are advised of the liquidation of matured treasury bills to the amount of 2,500,000$. To the uninitiated this is mysterious, if not suspicious. We do not doubt the legality of the transaction, but even with that much faith is it right for the government to conceal the existence of such debts, or to issue and pay them without any public record whatever? It is a dangerous privilege to concede, even to the best of ministers, and a wholly inexcusable one to leave in the hands of a minister who is notoriously insensible to the restrictions which the law and business impose upon him. Take, also, the loan of nine hundred thousand pounds to the same bank to assist it through difficulties, and the concealed debt of nineteen thousand contos liquidated on January 4th. We may also refer to the alleged conversion of the 1868 gold loan, and the prevailing ignorance in regard to the actual status of that transaction. And then there is the unknown position of the public debt. In no other civilized country can there be found such a state of affairs. It may be that all the ministers of finance in Brazil are so pre-eminently trustworthy that it would be improper to put restrictions upon them and to exact detailed information from them in regard to their administration of public affairs, but other countries have found it impolitic as well as unsafe to repose unlimited confidence in men of unstained reputation, and it might be well to follow that example here. And, in our opinion, a conscientious minister will be among the first to insist upon a careful accounting of the funds placed at his disposal, and upon the fullest publicity for all his official acts.

MEAT CONSUMPTION.

The consumption of meat per capita is considered by political economists one of the best tests of the prosperity of a community. Subjected to this test, the prosperity of the city of Rio de Janeiro and of the districts commercially dependent on this city, shows a remarkable decline in the last two years.

In 1898 the number of beefs slaughtered for this market was 148,827 and the deliveries of carne secca for consumption in this city and in the districts which have overland connection with it amounted to 39,149,040 kilos.

In the following year, under the influence of the impoverishment resulting from exorbitant taxation, consumers were able to pay for only 131,803 beefs and 33,906,460 kilos of carne secca.

Last year taxes were still more burdensome and the people were obliged to reduce still more their consumption of meat. The deliveries of carne secca amounted to only 29,740,730 kilos, and the number of beefs slaughtered up to Dec. 20 was only 110,228.

Thus last year in comparison with 1899 there was a decrease of about 17 per cent. in the consumption of fresh beef and about 12% in that of carne secca, and in comparison with 1898 the decrease was about 25% in the consumption of the former article and about 24% in the consumption of the latter.

When impoverishment forces people to diminish their consumption of meat, it also obliges them to deprive themselves of many other articles. This means a decrease in trade and in business profits. Failures result and banks, becoming alarmed, withhold assistance from business men, thus aggravating the situation and increasing the number of failures. In consequence of the inability of the people, through poverty, to live in a wholesome manner, public health deteriorates and laboring capacity diminishes. The accumulation of wealth is retarded and enterprise ceases to find a stimulus for developing the resources of the country. And all this is due in this instance to the short-sighted policy of the President and his minister of finance, who are blindly endeavoring to evade the duty of making in public expenditure the reductions essential to the successful solution of the financial problem.

If the telegram is true that Portugal has undertaken to increase her army to 100,000 men, just to please Great Britain, an injustice has been done which no amount of political advantage can ever counterbalance. Portugal is a small and poor state, and she is already heavily in debt. Her people can not support such an army, nor is there the slightest necessity that they should make the effort. Italy has been ruined by the triple alliance, and now Portugal will be ruined by trying to follow an importance in her alliance with Great Britain which is much beyond her resources. It is a cruel injustice to a peaceful, hard-working people to force them into such selfish and pretentious alliances.

It would seem that the German colonists in Santa Catharina are becoming tired of the waste of public money in that state, and are proposing to organize a "German party" as a means of combating the evil. The Pitz is not pleased with the scheme, because it wants no division in the republican ranks. Then, how are the abuses, of which the Germans complain, to be remedied? The party responsible for them, certainly will not correct them. Good government in a republic can only be obtained through the medium of two or more parties, one acting as a check upon the other. There must be a division in the ranks. For this reason, if for no other, the action of the German colonists in Santa Catharina is to be heartily approved.

It is evident that the recent census of this city was not correct, but it is difficult to believe that it is over three hundred thousand persons under the real population. To settle the matter, another census should be taken at once. In our opinion the census of 1890 was incorrect, because of the excessive flying population attracted here at that time by the wild speculations, and because of the mistake of counting people at their places of business. It was evident that a very considerable percentage of the announced population resulted from this duplicate counting. The real population, in our opinion, was less than 500,000 in 1890, though an increase of 2 per cent per annum since the last preceding census, which is a very liberal allowance, would give a trifle over that figure. As it is useful to know the truth, another and better effort should be made to get at the real population. The government should know the truth, because a decreasing or stationary population means that some serious mistake has been made which it would be wise to correct. The sanitary authorities should also have the correct figure, because it helps them to know the sanitary condition of the city. An excessive estimate on the population deceives them, because it gives them lower mortality percentages than a correct calculation would show. Talking and writing about the last enumeration will not help us a particle in such matters. Let us have a new count!

PROVINCIAL NOTES

—It is asserted that yellow fever is increasing in Niteroi.

—Pernambuco was visited by a violent storm of wind and rain on the 21st.

—The Porto Alegre police are now making energetic efforts to repress bicho garrafim.

—The senatorial election in the state of Pernambuco, to fill a vacancy, is fixed for the 25th March.

—Incomplete census returns from Pernambuco show that the city has between 125,000 and 130,000 inhabitants.

—The sanitary authorities of Juiz de Fora are hard at work trying to improve the sanitary condition of that city, and hope to avoid the visitation of fever this year.

—Telegrams from Paralyba and Rio Grande do Norte of the 23rd state that heavy rains have fallen in those states, both in the interior and on the coast.

—Carnival this year shows a record of several murders, assaults and disorderly scenes. It would seem full time to put an end to the custom of giving three days' licence to riot and vice.

—At Juiz de Fora a carriage containing maskers was stoned on the last day of carnival. The disturbance is attributed to the religious question which agitates that town at the present time.

—At Ubatuba, which now enjoys a very bad reputation, there were serious conflicts on the third day of carnival, which resulted in the death of two roughs and in gunshot wounds for one police official.

—The water famine continues in S. Domingos and Niteroi, and all protests receive no attention. There is a low pressure supply on the level, but all persons living on hill-sides, or having high water boxes, get only what they have carried in from the street taps.

—Disorders have occurred on the frontier between Paralyba and Rio Grande do Norte, bands of armed outlaws invading the former state and attacking the village of Victoria. At another place a fight occurred, in which two police sergeants and one cangaceiro were killed.

—One of the heroes said to have been killed in battle up in the Acre district, has reappeared in Manaus. It reminds us of the Canudos hero said to have been killed with his face to the enemy and in defense of his commanding officer, and who afterwards turned up with a suspicious wound in the heel.

—The Nação, of S. Paulo, has temporarily suspended publication as a daily, but will be continued as a weekly. We are all "weeklies" these days, even including the minister's pet organ. The manager of the Nação says that the shareholders are not paying up, consequently the paper can not go on until all these delayed payments are realized.

—In consequence of the governor's threatening attitude the courts in Santa Catharina continue closed. The president of the superior court and the president of the state legislature have called the attention of President Campos Sales to this subject. The latter in his answer will doubtless advise them to follow the example of congress and the courts in Rio de Janeiro, who take good care to comply with the wishes of the executive.

—The planters are beginning to understand what a higher rate of exchange means in respect to their produce in foreign markets. It does not mean an increased price in gold, but it means that fewer paper mites will be equivalent to the real gold price. Unless they can reduce wages and other costs of production, which can only be done slowly, it likewise means a very great prejudice to them.

—A friend of ours recently returned from the southern states says that they are nearly all monarchists now in that section of the country. The republicans are living in Rio at public expense or are holding down the offices there, while the people at large are denouncing iniquities and follies of the government and openly declare themselves monarchists. It is said that speeches are made in public there which would put a man under arrest here in Rio.

—The state exposition at Porto Alegre was formally opened on the 24th inst. by the governor of the state of Rio Grande do Sul. The attendance was large and enthusiastic. The American minister, Mr. C. P. Bryan, arrived the preceding day and was present at the opening ceremonies. A telegram of the 23rd to the Pitz says that Mr. Bryan declared himself enchanted with Porto Alegre. It says he did not know that Rio Grande is so rich a country.

LOCAL NOTES

—Senator Luro Sales arrived here from Paço on the 21st inst.

—It is asserted that public school teachers have not been paid since August.

—Councillor Gaspar da Silveira Martins arrived in this city from Montevideo on last Wednesday.

—The Argentine minister of this capital gave an enjoyable little breakfast to his friends on Sunday last.

—A Montevideo telegram of the 21st says that it has been decided to hold the third Latin-American congress at Rio de Janeiro.

—Which is the most disagreeable? The carnival itself, the disturbances of which it is the occasion, or the squabbles over those disturbances?

—It is stated that important documents and other valuable property have disappeared from public offices. The public service is evidently in a state of dissolution.

—Bodo Jacquy, director of the novel school, reports that he is officially informed that none of the disturbances during carnival were caused by exiles of that school.

—On Saturday the supreme court issued a writ of habeas corpus in favor of the judges undergoing trial before the Mato Grosso legislature and ordered the suspension of the trial.

—When Portugal finds herself in the grip of a great power and threatened with extinction, may she receive the same treatment she is now according to another.

—We deeply regret to note that the health of the Empress Frederick is again reported to be failing. Her long and painful illness lends us to anticipate a fatal result at any moment.

—The chief of police in a communication addressed to the chief of staff of the army says that the disturbances during carnival were caused by officers of the army and naval cadets.

—On Morro do Castello there was a free fight among maskers on Tuesday night. Firearms were used and there were several casualties, two persons being severely wounded. The fight lasted about an hour.

—Witnesses questioned by police authorities testify that officers of the army and navy, a lieutenant-colonel of the national guard and cadets of the naval and military schools took part in the disturbances during carnival.

—The new British minister at this capital, Sir Henry N. Dering, Bart., was booked to come out on the R. M. S. "Magillens", which should arrive here next week. He is accompanied by Lady Dering and Mr. A. Dering.

—The minister of industry, commerce and public works, Dr. Alfredo Milla, returned from São Paulo on the 21st inst. and reassumed charge of his department yesterday. He is much improved in health, though still showing signs of illness.

—It is a pleasure to record that at Montevideo a favorable opinion exists upon the present state of Brazilian finances. The great success with which Uruguayans have kept their own house in order, lends special value to their judgment of others.

—The agent of the American Bible Society informs us that during the past year there were distributed in Brazil 9,726 Bibles, 10,692 New Testaments and 26,284 portions of the Holy Scriptures, making a total distribution of 46,702 copies. During the thirteen years of Mr. Tucker's supervision of this work he has been instrumental in distributing 286,735 copies of the Holy Scriptures, of which 173,729 were Bibles, 60,428 New Testaments and 152,736 portions. This is a record of which Mr. Tucker may well be proud.

—One of the Petropolis barraes had a cylinder head blown off on Saturday last as the boat was leaving Mauá at 6 p.m., severely hurting two firemen and delaying the arrival of the passengers in Rio until after 11 o'clock. One of the injured men has since died.

—It rained nearly all day on Tuesday last, the final day of carnival, but this did not deter the people in doors and windows from throwing coffete. The result was an accumulation of dirt and rubbish in the streets that made Rio the filthiest city we ever saw the next morning. Confetti, water and mud do not make a very attractive-looking combination.

—“Strangely enough,” said Joseph P. nervously, “I can’t get rid of the impression that we have had a thunderstorm to-day, and yet I see no signs of it about.” “Perhaps it is seen an electric storm,” said Joseph C., sympathetically, “and you have had a shock—something like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. I’ve had that kind of feeling myself, on certain occasions.”

—“I have just sent my condolences around to the ‘vicious-minded heggar,’ said Smilwyt yesterday as he came in from the street smiling. “He’s had a bad fall, I fear. You see when a fellow with a ragged edge reputation starts in to worry others, some one is bound to drop on him, and in spite of being a lightweight, Ray can strike a nasty blow.” And Smilwyt smiled as though he had done it himself.

—A telegram of the 20th inst. from Bello Horizonte to the Pais says that carnival passed off in a very animated fashion in that capital, “it being estimated that more than four persons collected in Rio Bahia Sunday and Monday, afternoons and evenings.” It must have been a brilliant sight! Unfortunately, the Pais spoiled the effect of the telegram the next day by swelling this magnificent crowd of four to “four thousand.”

—Sunday last was the anniversary of the promulgation of the Brazilian constitution. There was the usual quantity of gunpowder hurled over it, official visits and compliments were exchanged, and a few newspapers discussed briefly on the subject of liberty, democracy, etc. But no one ventured to go into particulars and tell us what this new system has done for us. It would take a very hardened demagogue to assert that we have made any real progress since 1889, and that the country is richer, happier and better governed under the new regime.

—Notwithstanding the police prohibition on the central entrance (water throwing in various forms), it was practised this year with greater freedom than for many years past. In the first place Jupiter Playvin gave every one a wetting who happened to be in the streets. Then the bisnaga was everywhere in use, although its use was not authorized. And we have heard of cases where large serenos were brought into play to the signal of victory over the enemy. It is stated that the President wanted the police to divert themselves, and this may account for the apathy of the police.

—A Montevideo telegram of the 21st says that Minister Bryan had arrived there, on the “Theria,” which left Rio on 13th inst. was a guest of the American cruiser Albatross. He visited the Uruguayan foreign minister on the 20th, returning on board the same day. The telegram says the Albatross hoisted her anchor that same night (20th) and sailed for Rio de Janeiro with Minister Bryan on board. There will be some very hot burning in Buenos Aires over the minister’s neglect to visit that beautiful city, but they must try to put up with it—just as Montevideo did when President Céspedes stepped off by.

—During the reign of terror seven years ago the jacobins, who were then masters of this country, obtained from official sources and from an overawed public about 30,000, with which they said they were going to erect a statue of Monroe. The corner-stone of the pedestal was laid on Largo de Lapa, and the matter was apparently forgotten. Some days ago, however, there was a meeting of the committee in charge of the funds and it was decided to erect not a statue of Monroe, but a monument symbolising American fraternity. In another seven years we shall perhaps be prepared to inform our readers of the next step taken in this matter.

—Inefficiency, extortion, dishonesty and corruption seem to be making constant progress in every branch of the public service, which is not at all surprising in view of the encouragement given by the government to informers, spies and blackmailers. A sample of the expedients adopted for extorting money from the public is that which, according to the Comercio of Parahyba, is employed by census-takers. These officials, says that journal, first threatened the public with heavy fines for blanks filled incorrectly and then offered their services for doing the work properly, collecting for every blank from 25 to 50.

—In reproducing a telegram from the Times correspondent at Rio, the government organ in London, the South American Journal, repeats the now oft-repeated warning that the views of this correspondent are “rather pessimistic,” and his expressions of personal opinion should be accepted with some reserve. Just so! But how about the editor of the London organ? The Times correspondent might very properly retort that his views are rather optimistic and interested, and that his opinions are not his own and are to be discarded. When a newspaper government, it becomes a very untrustworthy critic. As a rule, business men prefer the pessimist.

—After ten years of silence the commission appointed to promote the erection of a monument to James Monroe held a meeting on the 21st, and resolved to invite designs for a less pretentious monument than was originally contemplated. The Floriano Peixoto commission had appealed to them for the money raised, but the Monroe commission adhered to the original “doctrine” and will put up their own monument, no matter how little it is.

—On the night of the last day of carnival there were several disturbances in which many persons, it is stated, were wounded. General Costallat, director of the military school, reports that no military calets took part in those disturbances; but the commander of the battalion of naval fusiliers reports that both military and naval calets were engaged in disturbances at the Misson Moderne and in the attack on the procession of a carnival club on Rua do Ouvidor, and that the disturbances at the S. Pedro theatre were caused solely by military calets. Gen. Costallat’s record is such that his reports must be taken cum grano salis, for we all remember what was his conduct when the calets of his school insulted the chamber of deputies. As for the naval calets, it is surprising to learn that they have taken part in these disturbances, for at one time they were the most orderly and best behaved young men in Rio de Janeiro. They have, however, still under the influence of Sabinha da Gama’s administration, an influence which subsisted for a long time after the admiral had severed his connection with the naval school. The cause of the disturbances is said to be a report that circulated in regard to floats exhibited in the procession. These floats, it was reported, ridiculed a celebrated entertainment at the military school and the ironclad Agulhas in inability to navigate. The carnival clubs have demanded that the rioters shall be punished. The police, naval and military authorities are investigating the matter.

On January 24th, at No. 16 Weech Road, West Hampstead, London, N. W., the wife of William Reid, of a daughter.

BUSINESS NOTES

—Several retail shops have lately closed their doors, unable to meet expenses.

—The shareholders of the Banco Commercial de Bahia, have authorized the anticible liquidation of that establishment.

—A São Paulo telegram of the 21st inst. states that José Merliat, a pawnbroker, has disappeared, leaving a shortage estimated at 700,000.

—A telegram of the 13th inst. from Pará states that the Banco Commercial has resumed payments; the Banco di Pará will shortly resume and the Banco de Belém will enter into liquidation.

—The Journal do Brasil of the 23rd hears that the government will give the contract for coating silver to a well known and successful pawnbroker. The journal hints that he is able to bring more influence to bear on the government than any one else.

—A Montevideo telegram of the 21st says that the merchants who have trade relations with Brazil are asking Dr. Nuno de Andrade to declare our ports closed in order to do away with existing prejudicial quarantines. Would our declaration not do us well?

—Smilwyt wants to know whether the minister’s proposed silver coins will be stamped with the head of a goddess of liberty, and, if so, whether the head will be the same one appearing on the 25 notes. In our opinion, it would be better for Smilwyt to concern himself with the amount of silver in each coin. What has he to do with goddesses?

—Judge Ataúlfo de Paiva, at the suit of the Banco Rio e Matto Grosso, has ordered the judicial liquidation of the Companhia Marcearia Brasileira. This new victim of the government’s disastrous financial policy owns the largest furniture factory in Brazil. It is an interesting coincidence, if nothing more, that the compradência came from one of Martinho’s banks.

—The negotiation of a reciprocity treaty based on the kind of package in which flour is shipped to Brazil is to be described as a diplomacy of makeshifts. The prejudicial party conforms to the requirement for best terms, and the situation is as it was at the beginning. Nothing whatever has been gained but an ill reputation. Frank, straightforward work is much better.

—The total production for the world of caoutchouc (rubber) is estimated at 50,000 tons, of which about 30,000 tons is exported from Brazil. Of the 50,000 tons, England consumes about 20,000 tons, and the United States about the same. France and Belgium take about 3,000 tons each. It would thus appear that Brazil yields about three-fifths of the whole supply.—Exchange.

—An interesting question has been asked of us, which we take pleasure in referring to some of our legal friends. At a meeting of creditors, can a creditor represent the gross amount of his claim, or the net amount? At the meeting of creditors of the Banco da Republica last October, the gross indebtedness of the Bank to the national treasury was over 42,000 contos, but the treasury at the same time owed the bank over 19,000 contos. What sum, then, had the treasury a right to represent—42,000 contos, or 23,000 contos?

—In view of the great number of counterfeit bills which have appeared of the 100,000 notes of the 7th estampa, the government will call them in for substitution.

—The evening paper Comercio suspended publication on the 20th inst. because of the general depression which affects all classes, and because of the costs of printing a newspaper under existing conditions. As the paper was receiving no subvention from the government and was dependent upon an impoverished public for support, it found that suspension is the easier way out of the difficulty.

—The newspaper Minas Gerais says that the Ouro Preto Gold Mining Co. paid 18,000 for the Muro de Sant’Anna property, and that the municipal council of Mariana received 6,480 in taxes on the transfer. This, we understand, is additional to the general tax on transfers, which goes to the state treasury. These heavy taxes on transfers are highly prejudicial to the country, as they discourage buying and selling property.

—Sr. Lucilio Castro de Lafayette, professor of the Brazilian Gymnasium and Polyglot Institution of Paris, and formerly chancellor of the Brazilian consulate in Paris, is seeking to form a company there, with a capital of 7,000,000 francs, for the construction of a scientific, industrial and commercial museum for the permanent exhibition of all the agricultural and industrial productions of Brazil.—Exchange.

—To-morrow at 1 o’clock p.m. there will be a meeting of the creditors of Messrs. J. H. Lowmiles & Co., who have asked for a year’s moratorium. The business difficulties of this firm are attributed to violent fluctuations in exchange, to the consumption tax of 50%, on metals, to the almost complete cessation of the discount business of the banks of Rio de Janeiro and to the present impossibility of realising on large sums belonging to the firm, locked up in the Companhia Industrial S. Sebastião and other companies.

—The Italian government has just denounced to that of Brazil, through the Italian minister in Rio, says the Rome correspondent of the Daily Express, the existence in Brazil of an extensive system of forging Italian bank-notes. Santos, in the state of São Paulo, is the centre from which the forgers work, and 100 lire, or 54 notes, are their speciality. It is believed that several thousands of these spurious notes have been put into circulation among the large Italian colony of Brazil, and many of them are beginning to make their unwelcome appearance in Italy.—S. A. Journal, Jan. 19.

—If the contention of the chief of the commercial statistics bureau is true, that the many descriptions of manufactured objects not specified in the “Official Nomenclature” can be described in the consular invoices as “manufactures of iron” or of copper, or of wood, etc., then why is it necessary to buy the nomenclature at all? The list of enumerated articles is so small in comparison with the list of imports that it is practically useless. Surely no government, nor chief of a statistical bureau, can force upon foreign traders the responsibility of translating invoices into a language they do not understand.

—It gives us no little pain to find by our Brazilian contemporary published in English at the bureau of commercial statistics and printed at public expense at the national printing office, that the vexatious measures lately adopted by the government, such as consular invoices, reciprocity, consumption stamps, and other vexations, were borrowed, for better or worse, from the United States. Just so—and we are sorry to see it. It is no credit to a country to borrow the blunders and follies of another. If now Uncle Sam will buy Brazil’s commercial statistics nuisance (not including its originator), and its official nomenclatures and its method of humbugging foreigners through the medium of a semi-official organ published in all-propos English, then innomins will be easy and the mischief done will be common to both sides. Our contemporary will then, perhaps, relieve us from the astounding accusation of swiftness against the use of consular invoices.

—Argentine millers are very indignant with the Brazilian government for placing differential duties upon flour, by which this article, in bags, pays less import duty than the same, in bags, a delicate method of giving North American flour a decided advantage over Argentine flour, which cannot be exported in barrels because we have none, nor timber with which to make them. But whatever be the real reason of this discrimination, it appears that, after all, Argentine millers have only themselves to thank for this action, inasmuch as they could sell flour, they supplied a bad article, by no means equal to samples, and, if this be true, we need waste no sympathy over them, for they are only reaping what they have sown. The same accusation is made against us with regard to the jerked beef trade to Cuba, which we appear to have lost by similar methods, and we cannot express any sorrow or indignation against a people or government who take [no] measures to punish dishonest commerce. The tone of commercial morality in Argentina is lamentably low and methods are excused, condoned, and even admitted, here, which would be punished as criminal in older countries. If by these methods we lose trade, we should mend our ways rather than try to cast blame upon more active and more honest traders who succeed in supplanting us.—Review, Buenos Aires, Feb. 6.

FINANCIAL NOTES

—In the accounts of an officer of the naval commissariat there has been discovered a shortage of 240,000.

—The applause of Murinho’s admirers is growing fainter and fainter. It is not to be expected that 2,335,000 will produce perpetual motion.

—A telegram of the 22nd says that the Diário de Pernambuco is attacking Murinho’s financial policy. Is there any one who can sincerely defend it?

—The prefect of the federal district has made a special appropriation of 1,950,000 for paying municipal employees who have not received their salaries for the last three months of 1900.

—It is asserted that in the last four years the state debt of Pará has increased from 3,000,000 to 35,000,000. And this is a time when rubber export duties were yielding a rich revenue to the state!

—The governor of Rio Grande do Norte has decreed a new issue of bonds. Those of the old issue are quoted at from 65% to 65% and it is thought that the quotations of those of the new issue will not be above 50%.

—The state government of Pará seems to be trying to starve that of Amazonas into terms. In retaliation for the latter’s obstructions to trade it has imposed a tax of 10% in gold per head on beef cattle exported from Pará to Amazonas.

—We are pleased to learn that the municipal government of Ubatá, Minas Geraes, has made a reduction of 20% in taxes and postponed their collection. Ubatá is the district in which the people are lurching thieves. It is an oasis in the desert of plunder and tax-ridden Brazil.

—The following returns of customs receipts for the month of January, in addition to those that we have already published, have been made public:

	1901	1900
Minaes,....	475,945$56	281,895$09
Corumbá,....	35,172$56	not stated

—The officers in various public departments and services are beginning to ask how it is that the minister of finance can find money to burn, while his directors and superintendents can find no few ways. And perhaps they will go to Rio de Janeiro some day to ask the minister himself!

—The revenue receipts of the municipality of Barbours, Minas Geraes, during the past year, amounted to 171,551$38, and the expenditures to 170,065$86. The municipality has a floating debt of 11,258$07, and a funded debt of 17,000$. During the last six years the municipality has paid 101,000$ interest and 45,000$ amortization on its funded debt.

—The “buckled out of all” was an attack on Minister Murinho’s ideas in the Pais of Friday last by Dr. Manoel Victorino, ex-vice president of the country. He does not accept the minister’s belief that increasing the rate of exchange by means of a reduction in the amount of currency outstanding, is providing just so much sterling capital to the country. That is, he does not believe in creating something out of nothing.

—Minister Murinho is infatuated. He has solved the problem of still having something to burn when he can get no more currency and when the supply of antediluvian bonds that were being forgotten in the vaults of the treasury, shall have been exhausted. The solution, as is so frequently the case with the solution of great problems, is very simple. All that the minister has to do is to issue inscripciones and lend them to the Banco da Republica, being repaid in the same which may forthwith be consigned to the Banes. The receipts from lotteries and luncy will doubtless furnish means for defraying for an indefinite period the cost of manufacturing the inscripciones.

—We mentioned in a recent issue that lotteries still constitute an unexploited source of public revenue. In view of the prevailing mental anarchy we are not surprised to learn that the same may be said of luncy. The receipts of the ascium on Praia Vermelha, estimated in the budget at 500,000$, amounted last year to 603,115$66. After the foregoing was written Smith stepped into our sunken and, having glanced at the item, remarked that the receipts from luncy are much larger than is shown by these figures. In fact, he asserted, merely all the revenue of the country is at present derived from luncy, for only luncies would impose and only luncies would pay the exorbitant taxes now collected.

—Yesterday Councillor Ray Barbosa published a vigorous reply to the accusation of The Brazilian Review to the effect that he is responsible for the enormous emissions of paper money, and that the Imprensa has always clamored for further emissions. These statements are characterized as gross falsehoods. He declares that since 1847 he has been absolutely opposed to further emissions, and that the Imprensa has never advocated such emissions. If we are not mistaken, the editor of The Brazilian Review was not long since an apologist for cheap money, both paper and silver, but that was before he was employed by Minister Murinho to defend his policy of contraction.

PRAÇA JOSE D'ALENCAR No. 1

(Cottete)

Telephone No. 498

This hotel, which has been completely restored, is situated in the best part of the city, receiving air and light from all four sides, close to the cleanest beach of the city, surrounded by a large garden; has large, comfortable rooms newly and well furnished, good shower and warm baths, disinfectant in the water-closets, drinking water filtered by the Pasteur system, good table-service, and is, therefore, to be considered the first hotel of this capital.

Possesses also a sumptuous saloon and splendid table-service for banquets.

Its restaurant and service cannot be excelled.

FREITAS HOTEL 120, Rua do Riachuelo

Mr. J. F. FREITAS, proprietor of the old and well known Freitas Hotel, desires to advise his friends and former customers that he has reopened that hotel at No. 120 RUA DO RIACHUELO in a large and most attractive edifice acquired for this special purpose.

The new establishment is situated in one of the most attractive and healthy localities in the city, on a broad and quiet street, with trains for all central points of the city passing the door. It has a large and beautiful laid out pleasure garden, particularly suitable for ladies and children, and well-mounted bath-rooms provided with hot and cold water.

The Hotel is specially adapted for families, for whose comfort and convenience nothing will be found lacking. It contains a large drawing-room, and its dining-room opens on verandahs overlooking the garden.

Special attention will be given to orders by mail and telegraph.

SEA SICKNESS

26 cases were treated on board the "Olimpia" by Dr. Emanuel Pinto with Tincture of Nectandra and of these, 22 cases were completely cured, and the remaining four became much better.

The illustrious naval surgeon Dr. Henrique Monteiro says that "during voyages on board of war ships I have had occasion to use Tincture of Nectandra Amara of Mr. Antero Leivas against sea sickness and always with excellent results."

Numberless testimonials of travellers justify the results obtained by these distinguished physicians, with the Tincture and pills of the Nectandra Amara against sea sickness.

In order to facilitate the use of this medicine a prospectus accompanies each bottle written in the Portuguese, English and French languages.

N. B. The Nectandra Amara pills are formulated with the same doses of the Nectandra, in order that they may be sent by post all over the world with the least possible delay to supply the want of the Wine Elixir and Tincture of Nectandra Amara, which are liquid and cannot, therefore, be transported by the same rapid and sure means.

For sea sickness, induced in pregnancy, impoverishment of blood, weakness of the legs and convalescence after long and serious illness, the pills should be ground and dissolved in a small glass of Port wine in order that they may be taken as a liquid to insure a prompt action; it is also to facilitate for adults and children who cannot take dry pills, and in this case they can be dissolved in pure water if no wine is to be had.

Persons who have no connections here and who may desire to have these most useful pills can obtain them by applying direct to the proprietor who undertakes to remit orders by registered post to any part of Brazil, or abroad for the small sum of 25000 per box, 14$500 for 6 and 25$000 for 12 boxes.

THE RIO NEWS.

This paper is now in its 27th year, having originally been published as The South American Mail and The British and American Mail. It assumed its present title at the beginning of April, 1879, when it was published three times a month. From a tri-monthly it has been changed to a weekly publication, and from four pages it has been increased to twelve.

As an advertising medium The News occupies an exceptionally advantageous position. It circulates widely throughout Brazil, and also in Europe and the United States. Its subscribers are principally business men interested in Brazilian trade, industries and investments. No other periodical, even with much larger circulation, can offer better inducements to advertisers who seek the attention of these classes.

All communications should be addressed to the Editor and Publisher, Caixa do Correio, 24, Rio de Janeiro.
